We are so proud of our Voices in the Park stories!

'The Iron Man' story by Ted Hughes has since given us lots of opportunity to explore effective vocabulary to improve similes and expanded noun phrases in our writing.

Head

His colossal, scrappy head was as sturdy as a rock.

Arms

Stretching as far as a field, his rusty, clumsy hands swiped and grabbed.

Our topic this half term in French has been 'Je me Présente' and we have practiced our pronunciation when telling our learning partners all about ourselves: our name, birthday, nationality and the town we live in..... et vous? Comment tu t'appelle?

Year 4 have worked so hard this half term and should be proud of how they have demonstrated our Almond Hill Learning Behaviours – we hope you have a restful half term.
